

Table of contents

INTRODUCTION	11
Chapter I. KNOWLEDGE AND MEANINGS IN THE POETIC COMPOSITION	15
1.1. General Introduction	15
1.2. Knowledge in Poetic Composition	28
1.3. On the Concept of Meaning in Poetic Compositions	38
1.4. Psychophysical Senses in Poetic Creation and Interpretation	43
1.5. Senses-Feelings	54
Chapter II. AUTOPOIETIC APPROACH TO CONSCIOUSNESS AS A PREREQUISITE FOR POETRY	59
2.1. Autopoiesis in Living Systems – to the Origins of Autopoiesis Concept	60
2.2. Autopoietic Model of Consciousness	64
2.3. Creativity, Autopoiesis, Communication	72
2.4. Psychophysical Meanings: Autopoietic Approach	77
Chapter III. POETICAL COMPOSITION AS AN INTENTIONAL OBJECT	83
3.1. Artistic Composition as an Ideal System of Meanings	86
3.2. Creativity Action	91
3.3. Intentional Objects as Ideal Systems	103
3.3.1. Consciousness and Intentional Objects	104
3.3.2. Atomistic and Holistic Perspectives	109
3.3.3. Complex and Simple as the Subject of Reflection ...	113
3.4. Socio-Phenomenological Analysis of Poetic Meaning	117
Chapter IV. HUMAN CONSCIOUSNESS AND CREATIVE SITUATION	125
4.1. Methodological Issues Related to the Study of Consciousness Phenomena	125

Table of contents

4.2. Universal Consciousness Structures	131
4.3. The Situation of Poetic Creation	137
4.3.1. The Structure of the Creative Situation	139
4.3.2. Creativity and Cognition Situations: (Comparative Analysis)	146
4.3.3. Pre-Insight State and Transformation of the Situation in the Poetry	149
Chapter V. CREATIVE FUNCTIONS OF IMAGINATION AND INTERSUBJECTIVE INTERPRETATION OF POETIC COMPOSITION	158
5.1. The Work of the Transcendental Imagination – the Transformation of Poetic Concepts	159
5.2. Associative Mechanism of Imagination	163
5.3. Artistic and Philosophical Knowledge as Creative ...	171
5.4. Intersubjectiv Interpretation of Artistic Compositions	178
5.4.1. Intersubjectivity in the Framework of Phenomenology	179
5.4.2. Autopoietic Character of Interpretation	185
5.4.3. Interpretation – Theoretical and Empirical Levels ...	188
5.4.4. The Epistemological Status of the Guess in Interpretation	198
Chapter VI. POETIC COMPOSITION AND LANGUAGE 202
6.1. The Concepts of the Life-World and the Poetic World	202
6.2. Lyrical Hero of the Composition	208
6.3. The Notion of Poetical Hero in Dedication Poem ...	216
6.4. The Poetic Image	224
6.4.1. Poetic Images' Formation	225
6.4.2. Trustworthiness of the Poetic Image	229
6.5. The Idea of Poetic Composition	234
6.6. Personality of a Reader	238
6.7. The Meaningfulness of Poetic Language	244
6.7.1. Reminiscent Character of Language	245

Table of contents

6.7.2. On the Concept of Language Communication	251
6.7.3. Naming and Source of Language	254
6.7.4. Sound as Component of Poetry	257
Chapter VII. POETIC WORLD AS THE HUMAN
ENVIRONMENT	268
7.1. Mesocosmos and Antropokosmos: Cognitive,
Ontological and Aesthetic Aspects	268
7.1.1. Mesocosmos as the Concept
of Non-Classical Epistemology.	269
7.1.2. Creating of Antropokosmos as Transcending
of Mesocosmos	272
7.2. The Concept of Antropokosmos and Poetry	278
7.3. Creative Condition	287
CONCLUSION	295
REFERENCES	297
SUMMARY	302