Forgiveness, Solidarity
and Civic Responsibility:
the Ukrainian Context

Summer School Dates: July 1-10, 2014

Organizers: International Institute for Ethics and Contemporary Issues (IIECI)
and Philosophy Department of the Ukrainian Catholic University

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

When students from all over Ukraine travel to Lviv and all spend quality time together at UCU Philosophy Summer School investigating philosophical themes such as political justice, or freedom, or civic virtue, then the healing power of love and forgiveness becomes evident.

Over the last six years the team at UCU has learned that love and forgiveness cannot happen in the abstract but become real only through interpersonal face-to-face relations among people who come together not to discuss directly the themes of love and forgiveness, but to focus on other themes such as freedom, civic virtue or political corruption.

The school includes seminars, presentations and round-tables conducted by UCU professors and experts from Ukraine and Europe.
